

The Mythical Stag

A long time ago
in a kingdom,
there was a king
named Nimrod
and his two sons named Hunor and Magyar.
Their father was very ill, in honor of his life the boys tried to complete the family tradition.
On one particular morning Hunor and Magyar left to go beyond their border with a hundred younger men. They rode through creepy forest and astonishing meadows and
chased
amusing
animals.

They saw a mythical deer and chased it for a long time. The deer led them to a beautiful island.
They found a meadow
where lots of pretty girls were dancing.
The next day they had a big white wedding, they had lots of children so they all had to move.

by
Sasha
William

